Guided Tour of the Hôtel Solvay

Fully Booked - Waiting List Only

Join us for a very special guided visit to the Hôtel Solvay on Avenue Louise on Saturday, September 21. Listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Monument, the Solvay House is one of the major town houses of the architect Victor Horta. In 1894, the chemical magnate, Armand Solvay, hired Horta to build a home for his bride. Solvay gave Horta unlimited freedom of creation and unrestricted funding for the project.

The Solvay House greatly contributed to Horta's rising reputation as a world-class architect. His new focus on the innate vitality of people led him to change many accepted practices. He adapted and altered metal frames used in industrial structures to bring radically new qualities to the inner space of a home.

These innovations are all directed towards enhancing the life of those who live in the house. What strikes the visitor to this wonderful building is its luminous space, in which light filters through from everywhere, softened by the carefully arranged coloration of the walls, the floor coverings, and the glasswork.

Our guide will be Mrs. Lieve Dejonghe, an art historian, who was our guide at the Watteau exhibit in late April.

Please note that this visit is limited to 22 people. Those who indicated an interest in attending this visit will be given priority in terms of registering for the event. So, do sign up quickly for this spectacular visit!

Red Star Line Museum

Millions of People with One Dream

A new adventure starts in Antwerp on September 28: the Red Star Line Museum!

For millions of people from all over Europe the sheds of the Red Star Line on the Rijnkaai in Antwerp's Eilandje neighbourhood were the start of a new life in the United States and Canada. The New World was the Promised Land for those seeking good fortune. More than two million emigrants sailed from Antwerp to America between 1873 and 1934. The new Red Star Line Museum, located in the shipping company's old sheds, brings that almost forgotten history back to life via countless stories and lively testimonies from Red Star Line passengers.

You can be one of the first to visit the new museum on September 28 and 29. The museum will be open longer than usual on these two days. Reservations are not required but we recommend that you reserve a time slot. You can order tickets as of August 25 via www.redstarline.be.

De Loods will open together with the museum. De Loods is the name of the old baggage shed that now serves as the reception area for the Red Star Line Museum. During the museum's opening hours you can visit De Loods for its attractive museum café, museum shop and the photography exhibition 'Tranzyt Antwerpia' by Herman Selleslags.

We conclude Saturday evening, September 28, with a proper tribute to the more than two million Red Star Line passengers and emigrants. In the bend of the Scheldt River, where the Red Star Line ships departed, we will launch a fireworks display with millions of red stars!

As if that is not enough, the entire Eilandje neighbourhood will be celebrating. Follow the Red Star Walk of Fame between the FelixPakhuis and the Red Star Line Museum on Saturday and Sunday and experience music, literature and gastronomy in a Red Star Line, New York and 'Pursuit of Happiness' setting. The festival square at the Red Star Line Museum will be transformed into a cosy place with a nice festival atmosphere. The entire festival programme is listed on www.eilandfestival.be.

American Expat Finances

This complimentary seminar will focus on how American citizens can deal with the ever changing regulatory environment and financial challenges. Dunhill Financial will explain these changes and offer the best solutions to tackle these new regulations. Deloitte will assist to give their perspective. In addition, the BRATS group (authors of Retiring in Belgium: A Guide For Expats) will present some of the other aspects of planning for retirement.

There will be lots of young professionals present, thanks to our collaboration with InterNations, the Australia Society and the Irish Club. An ideal opportunity to meet new people in a fun way.

The American Club of Brussels is one of the oldest American clubs in Europe, founded in 1921 to foster Belgian-American relations. Although our members comprise more than 20 other nationalities from all walks of life, the ACB retains its American flavor. Some of us are long-time residents in Belgium. Many of us are newcomers. We all enjoy ourselves and the club's wide variety of social and cultural activities.

The ACB is a great way to expand your circle of friends and to discover more of the delights of Belgium. Try us.
